THE ICELAND LETTER.
TRANSLATED FROM THE GERMAN

Continued

Therese seated herself, and Theodore began

'When our father died, now nearly four years since, thou knowest that, for the consolation of my mother, as well as ourselves, I composed a monody to his memory, and the music thereto They were printed, and six months subsequently, I received a letter which came from a lady, signing herself Ottilia Wangen, but you must hear the letter, that you may not falsely judge the maiden,' and, saying this, Theodore drew from his desk the following epistle

'Sir It is, perhaps, most unbecoming in me thus to address you, but pardon a maiden who, in the overflow of her gratitude, forgets, for once, what is due to propriety You have saved my life, I have lost my adored father! I loved him too well; I became ill, my mind became deranged, and the physicians feared that my distraction would remain incurable My soul dwelt in dreams, and I wandered through a chaotic world, seeking the clear morning light, which I never could reach Much did I suffer The realities that surrounded me I knew not, and the forms which I thought encompassed me, glided about like spirits, and fettered and hindered me from reaching the holy light, the light of a better world Once, in my deep sorrow, I heard music, I will only tell you it was the requiem you had composed, Ah! you, too, have lost a father, you too have suffered like myself The music, which I believed came from heaven, entirely subdued me, I dissolved in tears, and as they fell, the deep anguish of my frozen heart, thawed beneath their genial influence, the winter world of my dream vanished, all became bright, and the morning red beamed nearer to me, the wandering spirit shapes transformed themselves into my weeping relatives, fever ensued, but, through the usual remedies, I was easily cured

'But you, sir! you have saved me, your filial offering to the dead, recalled my soul from the dark midnight of mute, overwhelming, despairing madness Often since then, have I relapsed into deep sorrow, but even in my grief, I am happy I live in your music, amid your reflections, perhaps it is only a new illusion Be it so, my father deserved it all, ah! that my ashes were laid with his These are the first lines I have written for one year, I made a vow, and now I have fulfilled it I thank—only for give me OTTILIA WANGEN

'This is not so bad, said Therese smiling, 'we women might possibly weep over such a letter as this, but you, with your sterner souls, are more philosophical'

'One courtesy brought on another, could I be silent to the address of so loving, so sensitive a creature? I answered her letter, I mourned with her, I consoled her and myself This drew a short answer from her, I wrote again, and we became engaged in so many questions and answers, that there appeared no end to our correspondence Unconsciously we won each others love, each new letter was a new step to confidence, our spirits harmonized, and formed an union which differed wholly from all the common connections of life For us was no worldliness, no selfishness, no passion If the dwellers in heaven loved, and told their love, their feelings and affections could not be purer than were our own It is true, this spiritual communion, this pure love of soul, differs wholly from that which the world calls friendship, love, intimacy, it is something unknown, different,—perhaps, as thou sayest, romantic, be it so, a name neither elevates nor degrades it, each feels it in his own way, and calls it after his own sensations Oh! Therese, this unknown Ottilia has taken from me all inclination for, all susceptibility to the charms of those with whom I am acquainted I have known many maidens but none who, for an instant, could make me forget my charming invisible What did I find among them all? Beings more bone and flesh than spirit, beings, the love of whom but fires the fancy and consumes the heart even when the torch of Hymen is but newly lighted Beings who, after the first novelty of love has passed dream only of coquetry, and think of the equipage and fortune of man, more than of his heart

'And who are not one jot better, or worse than man, interrupted the Landrathine, 'I must merely, in passing, remark to you, Theodore, that you are very rude, and remind you that you must not forget, while seated by your sister, that she is a woman, but I will allow you to proceed

'I said but the truth'

'And I too, dear brother, thou lovest the image thy fancy has created, and no spirit, thou ravest, and in so doing, form no exception to the legion of lovers, who, year after year, and under every silver moon, rave of a new object—Believe me, Theodore thou art no angel, as little is thy sainted Ottilia one, mankind has been the same from all eternity,—following the same round which powerful nature compels them—What you imagine, have many others also fancied, and each believed himself a remarkable being, who alone made the grand exception to all others of his kind We are all wrong, only each one errs with regard to the other, but you understand not what I preach Mr Philosopher, and to do so, you must become a married man

'And you, in your turn, do not comprehend me Think what you will I know Ottilia ... shall read her letters, and then change your opinion Do you think I should love Ottilia less, if she were married? Do you think ... affection for her would be diminished if I ... day stood before the altar with another thing, but not all; we are at least certain that our spirits are together, and let us now, in the most solemn manner in which the lifeless lines of a letter can convey it, whisper to each other, 'I love thee now and forever!' Yes, Ah! permit me when I address thee, to use the simple familiar 'thou,' I am mistaken indeed if I have not raised the veil, which concealed the whole soul of Ottilia I love only thee, think only of thee, the farther I remove, the more strongly am I bound to thee,—yes, Ottilia, be whom thou mayest, remain only what thou appearest to be A prophetic spirit whispers me, that we shall meet, that I shall see thee, that we shall see each other, Oh, beloved Ottilia! I tremble for that moment, I almost wish that it may never arrive Ottilia, we are human, we are now happy in each other, but woe! if, when we meet, we should not please if we have involuntarily created an image in our thoughts, and find in each other something which our imaginations had not taught us to expect, shall we not then be the destroyers of our own happiness?

'We love each other, we are united as brother and sister, the secret of our sympathy is known to us, our hearts are exhibited, without veil or concealment, think then, Ottilia, of our personal meeting for the first time—how then? We have never seen each other before, and we suddenly become strangers, I should not venture to approach the unknown form, which contains the fair soul which I love, and which loves me, the familiar 'thou' which we use with the pen, would die uttered on our lips, and we should find meeting hand to hand, far different from meeting soul to soul

'Ottilia, were we personally to see each other, it would be with us, as with two lovers, whose spirits meet in another world, under another form we should see each other and still be strangers, I should ask if thine were the mouth from which spake the spirit I had loved? and would you recognize in me the being I had before appeared to you?

'Certainly our destiny, Ottilia, is a singular one, we, full of tenderness and truth, shun, with terror, the moment which all others anticipate with intense eagerness We are spirits brought into contact, and who tremble for the body, that contains them, farewell Ottilia, if I dwell on this theme I shall grow melancholy'

Theodore ceased, and Therese laughed as she said, 'your so ... love is a very charming piece of nonsense, but how did the spirit, Ottilia, in thy absence, did it not become a little vexed?

'I shall have to read you the whole of our voluminous correspondence, but now sister, our time is too short, I will say but one word, and then I will go home to Gruenburg, I will see Ottilia, she does not know that I have returned, nor do I intend that she shall, but she shall see without knowing me, for I will assume a false name Her letters though directed to Copenhagen, went always first to L, where dwells my friend Muller, who forwarded them to me wherever I might be, and he always sent her mine which were invariably dated from the same place

'I perceive that your innocent spirits appear pretty well versed in manœvering, but sir, you have not advanced quite so far as you suppose You have called me as adviser in your spiritual adventure and I have therefore an inclination to be heard, and thou shalt take no step without my knowledge and approval Thou art in my power, thou hast given me the address of thy unknown one, I have a messenger, and can write

'Wilt thou betray me?'

'In ... must meet, Theodore, the fate of all great personages Thou must either be advised, or be betrayed in the former case I will stand faithfully by you, but proceed cautiously, in order to go securely The happiness of thy life hangs upon what thou wouldst do precipitately Thou lovest no maiden, only the created image of thy phantasy Thy lordly highness knows not woman our hearts must have something to engage them, it is absolutely necessary, ethereal Ottilia is a very different person in her home, from what she is in her letters, which are easily written and as easily defaced The heavenly spirit, which has inspired you with such divine enthusiasm, eats and drinks like every other human being, aye, and thinks too of marriage, her mirror and the altar

'In h... ... name! Therese, I beseech you, you will drive me away

'But believest thou truly, that the good Ottilia is composed entirely of air and light? My heavens why should not a maiden think of marriage? it is so natural but we will not quarrel, I am out of all reason curious to hear how Ottilia received the news of your departure let me at least hear what she says on that point

Theodore obediently opened his port folio but with a gloomy countenance, and read as follows

'You depart on your journey, and expect to be absent for two or three years, my beloved friend, how much will our correspondence be increased I do not permit myself to question proceedings, but if I dared—I would not have it thus—my heart is used to deprivation Ah dear friend, would I were severed from all—would I were with my father! I am a poor creature, yet still possess too much, I would loosen all worldly ties, I have no longer the wish to win love, for I have not the courage to lose it—Go and be happy,—you will be so ah! my friend you were an angel who delivered me from darkness you have finished your good works your letters abound in consolation and instruction you ... that you appeared even in my terrible madness, my harassed spirit with a sisterly tenderness, incline... ...to yours What difference can it make were you at ...? DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

JOHN S. SAYWARD, Editor.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1844.

FOR PRESIDENT,

HENRY CLAY,

OF KENTUCKY.

WHIG STATE CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Whig Members of the Legislature holden on the 8th inst. it was voted that a Whig State Convention be holden at Augusta on WEDNESDAY, the 7th day of February next, for the purpose of choosing two Whig Delegates to attend the Whig National Convention to be holden at Baltimore in May next, for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President; to determine on the time and place of holding a general Whig Mass Convention for the nomination of a candidate for Governor, and candidates for Electors of President and Vice President; and also to provide for a thorough organization for the ensuing elections. The WHIGS of the State are invited to attend and unite with the Whig Members of the Legislature in said Convention. An attendance of Whigs from the several parts of the State is earnestly desired.

Voted, That this notice be published in the several Whig papers in the State.

JOSIAH S. LITTLE,
RICHARD F. PERKINS, Secretary.
Augusta, Jan. 9, 1844.

☞ SEE FIRST PAGE.

☞ The Augusta Age of Saturday after stating several matters in relation to the recent election in the Seventh Congressional District concludes with the remark that "The truth will get on its boots, by and by." We agree in the prediction and will now proceed to examine the state of affairs in Aroostook County and to correct some of the misstatements of the Age.

It is well known that during the last Summer and Autumn there has been no less than six commissioners all locofocos, engaged in settling land titles with the settlers on the St John; that Albert Smith the grand Mogul of that party, has also been stationed in Aroostook County; that the Agent of Maine and Massachusetts Land Agents is of that party These facts go far to explain certain impressions strongly fixed in the minds of the settlers that it would be for their interest to vote with that party; that no permits would be granted to them to cut timber on the undivided lands onless they were true to the loco party; that several commissions of Justice of the Peace were bestowed upon certain men living on the St John with the understanding that they should give their influence in favor of the loco party. We have a multitude of facts respecting the influences improperly brought to bear upon the settlers in the Aroostook that we may have occasion by and by to expose.

The Age in speaking of the recent election states that the catholic priest at Madawaska marched at the head of a column of fifty seven persons to Hancock Plantation with three banners upon each of which were inscribed "God is our hope, Down with the Democrats." And that the priest received the votes of these fifty seven persons himself.

Now we have information upon this subject that warrants us in the strongest manner in denying the statement and declaring it destitute of truth. This attempt to bring reproach upon the Catholic priest in the Madawaska settlement is deserving of the severest censure.

From some unaccountable cause, unless from the fact that the Madawaska settlement, where there are may Yankees, gives a decided Whig vote, no warrant was received for the election, and the Assessors refused to post a notice for the meeting. The settlers and with them many Americans, finding they could not vote at home, proceeded to Hancock Plantation and there offered their votes. They were refused. They then proceeded to elect Assessors to preside at their meeting and deposited their votes and after procuring a certificate from the Assessors at Hancock Plantation of the fact of the votes being offered and refused, the names of the voters and the number of votes cast and for whom, were certified and forwarded, so that all the facts appear in the returns. The priest did not receive any votes—he took no official part whatever. There was a flag borne in procession having upon it "Vive T. Robinson," and nothing more.

Cary's agent canvassed the whole county, and was at work in the French settlements for several days previous to the election. Cary's men were brought from the loging swamps to vote, and so adroitly was it managed that after their arrival there was not time, if there had been a wish, to get the whig voters from the lumbering camps. If every thing was intended to be fair and above board, why should the Governor's warrants be withheld from several whig plantations, while the loco plantations were furnished? In view of all the efforts, official and otherwise, that have been made in Aroostook county by the loco party, we are greatly surprised that the informers of the Age, should attempt any justification of their conduct, or to state falsehoods regarding the action of the Whigs.

We believe Thomas Robinson has a majority of the votes cast at the recent election, and if such shall prove to be the case, whatever nice picking the Governor and his council may set on foot, we have no doubt his seat will be allowed in Congress. The votes are not to be bluffed off by the misrepresentations or mousing technicalities that may be raised by reckless men, for party purposes.

It may be a disagreeable and a mortifying fact for Mr Cary and his friends, to discover that, in his own county, which he thought he could carry by three hundred majority, he is in a minority by over an hundred votes, notwithstanding his gangs of workmen were brought from the woods to vote. We may allude to this subject again.

Awful Case of Poisoning.

The Advertiser, published at Lewiston Falls states that a painful affair occurred in Danville, about two miles from that village, in the family of Josiah Penly. Mr P., is the husband of a beautiful woman, and the father of four fine children. On the morning of the 15th he left for Brunswick, and in the afternoon Mrs P, wrote a letter to her sister, residing with her father about two miles distant, stating that, that night was the last she had to live, as she intended to take her own life before morning. This letter she gave to a neighbor, to deliver the next day; but suspicion of difficulty, he carried it immediately. Her sister and father hastened to the house and found her in great agitation of mind. She soon after sat down by their side and gave to each of her two youngest children, one about a year and a half and the other three years old, a half ounce of laudanum; replying to their inquiries, that it was medicine left them by the physician. Soon after, she left the room, and was drinking the laudanum she had prepared for herself, when her sister discovered her.

It was supposed that she drank more than two ounces, having reserved about an ounce for the other children who had not yet returned from school.

Dr A. Garcelon of Lewiston was immediately sent for, but more than an hour elapsed before his arrival. Fortunately the excitement, which precedes stupor had not passed off. She declared her determination to take nothing; said it was the result of long deliberation; and pointing to sores on her head and neck, said they were caused by kicks and blows from her husband, when she remonstrated with him for his gross violations of decency, with an abandoned woman, whom he had kept in his house for some months.

As she was deaf to entreaties, Dr G., by force, poured down a powerful emetic, and in one minute she threw up nearly the whole contents of the stomach.

By the continued skill and exertion of the physician, she and the children were kept roused, and all finally recovered.

The family separated for a time, but have again united.

The Inevitable Result.

Mr. Tyler, after laboring hard to establish a party of his own, seems disposed to fold his robe, and submit to his fate with as much dignity as can be expected from such a source. A late number of the Madisonian, in an article on the subject of the Presidential contest, says—"Mr. Clay's election to the Presidency is now an inevitable result. We fold our arms, and have nothing to do with victory or defeat."

It makes one's blood run lively through the veins, in contemplating the warm enthusiam which every where is visible at the mention of the name of CLAY. Justice long delayed now bursts the feeble barriers which falsehood and envy have in years past, erected, and like the wild mountain torrent, overleaps every obstacle that impedes its course, and spreads its reviving influences upon the valley below.

☞ The Richmond Whig describes Van Burenism now, as the remains of a remnant—the mere "rump" of the old Jackson party, purged of its worth and pith, embodying all its vices without any of its redeeming qualities.

Reputation.

Many a virtuous young man has been injurred by associating with individuals of bad character. Men of standing and influence are more observing than the inexperienced are aware of, and when a person is seen often in the company of the profane, intemperate or licentious, a mark is upon him, and when he solicits favors, they are at once refused him. Many are ruined merely by bad associates. A merchant, a director in a bank, a capitalist will not trust such a man If they believe his morals to be good at present, they are fearful least his companions should lead him astray, or borrow from him, or some way take that which has been confided to his care. None can be more careful of their reputation, and stand aloof from the idle and vicious, the indolent and careless.

"O reputation! dearer far than life,
Thou precious balsam, lovely, sweet of smell,
Whose cordial drops, once spilt by some rash hand,
Not all the owner's care, nor the repenting toil
Of the rude spiller even can collect
To its first purity and native sweetness."

How true! What individual will not be on his guard and watch his companions narrowly, lest he lose that which is dearer than life to him—which nothing can restore when once it is gone? Be virtuous yourselves and choose the virtuous for your associates, and them only, and when you want favors of others, nothing can be hoped to your discredit, and success will be almost certain to follow what you undertake.

[Port Tribune.

The Shoe-makers of Lynn have formed a Clay Club. They have hammered loco foco principles upon the lap-stone of truth, and find them rotten. The following is one of their resolutions:

Resolved, That we are not only Faneuil Hall Whigs—Massachusetts Whigs— but out and out Clay Whigs:—That we go for the "mill boy of the Salshes;" at the some time we shall, as we ever have done, stick to Honest John Davis to the last and wax stronger, until the rips in our government are sewed up, and the currency of the nation, and the protection to our industry, are pegged to-gether in a workmanlike manner. We go for him because we have occasioned him, and know him to be master of the craft—and in case of ACCIDENT or absence of the Boss, the Jours will not get the suck.

Sailors.

It is ascertained from official sources that nearly forty thousand sailors visit the port of New York annually; and that, excepting at this season of the year, there are usually here about four to five thousand. Of these, until recently, not more than an average of three hundred were in the habit of attending public worship. Until the establishment of the Sailors' Home in Cherry street, where are to be found the best accommodation of the kind, both spiritual and temporal, for near three hundred persons, benevolent effort seemed to reach but few. Now, a large number seem to feel the most hearty concurreuce in the measures proposed for their improvement. Nearly fourteen thousand sailors have become members of the temperance society. The shipping merchants have afforded great facilities by their acquiescence in various measures, and the consequence has been that the health of the sailor has improved to an astonishing extent. While the sailors have become temperate, many of them have also become religious men, under the faithful preaching of the clergy of different denominations.

It is a well known fact to those conversant with this subject, that the fishermen of some of the towns on the eastern shores of New England, often meet each other on the the fishing banks, while pursuing their toils, on a Friday, and a half a dozen of the skippers, and crews, agree to run into some of the harbors, to hold on the Sabbath a religious meeting. There is also a marked change, we understand, in the conduct of the seamen in the merchant service.

The Pilgrim Mothers.

BY S. F. STREETER.

The Pilgrim Mothers, where are they?
Their frames are dust, their souls in heaven;
Yet shall their memory pass away,
Nor praise to their good deeds be given!
"Teach infant lips to sing their name,"
(Ten thousand ready tongues reply,)
And give their noble acts to fame;
"Though now in silent dust they lie!"

They severed fond affection's chain.
On forms they might not see again,
And looked and listened o'er and o'er,
To voices they might hear no more;
Then, tore their bleeding hearts away,
From peaceful home beyond the sea,
Where they had passed their childhood's day,
Yet where the SPIRIT was not free.

NO HOME for them—that magic word
Which, fraught with love, and joy, and rest,
Whenever and wherever heard,
Unseals pure fountains in the breast;
No home for them;—for, far away
The dwellings of their kindred stood;
Beyond the swelling ocean's play,
Far from their forest solitude.

They sought a strange and wintry shore,
Yet love burned highly in their breast;
They shrank not when the mourners bore
The weary spirits to their rest;
And oft, when from a savage tongue,
Pealed widely forth the battle cry,
They to their trusting children clung,
And calmly gave themselves to die.

Oh, man, boast not thy lion heart!
Tell not of proud heroic deed!
Have we not seen thy vaunted art
Fail in the deepest hour of need?
But, woman's courage! 'tis more deep,
More strong than heart of man can feel,
To save her little ones that sleep
She bares her bosom to the steel!

Daughters of those, who long ago,
Dared the dark storm and angry sea,
And walked the desert way of wo,
And pain and trouble to be free!
Oh be like them! like them endure!
And bow beneath affliction's rod;
Like them be humble, mild and pure,—
In joy and sorrow look to God.

Religious Women.

They are the women who bless, dignify, and truly adorn society. The painter, indeed, does not make his fortune by sitting to him; the jeweller is neither brought into vogue, by furnishing their diamonds, nor undone by not being paid for them; the prosperity of the milliner does not depend on affixing their name to a cap or collar; the poet does not celebrate them; the novelist does not dedicate to them;—but they possess the affection of their husbands; the attachment of their children; the esteem of the wise and good; and, above all, they possess His favor 'whom to know is life eternal."

LORRAINE'S PILLS,

OR VEGETABLE UNIVERSAL MEDICINE CURATIVE

OF THE

French College of Health, in Paris.

THE following letter was received yesterday by mail from Salem. It gives another evidence of the great success of Lorraine's Vegetable Universal Pills.

SIR—I have been for many years a sufferer from the ravages of Scrofula and Cancerous Humors, which at last seated on the vitals, and exhibited all the threatening symptoms of consumption. The general inutility of all remedies awakened my enquiries as to the thousand different methods of cure, to most of which I had recourse without receiving benefit. I accidentally noticed a remarkable cure by Lorraine's Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. I sent to Boston and got a box. By the use of them I found immediate relief and was soon restored to a perfect state of health.

J. E. NEWHALL.

Salem, 21st May, 1841.

The following letter from J. B. Light, Esq. is worthy of notice.

SIR—It ook one of Lorraine's Vegetable Pills last evening for a pain in my head, that had effected me for several days, occasioned by taking cold. I soon felt very calm, and quiet, and a state of general repose came on which had great charms, and I enjoyed one of the most comfortable and refreshing nights rest that I ever did in my life. I rose in the morning in my usual state of health, and believe it is my duty to recommend this medicine.

Yours truly, J. B. LIGHT.—
Nov. 20th, 1841.

[From Boston Daily Mail.]

Somebody wisely says, that a cap loaded with ewels and flowers will not cure the headache, nor gold chains prevent the consumption. Lorraine's Vegetable Pills have done both.

SIR—I have been effectually cured of a severe headache by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

SARAH NOYES.

SIR—My daughter had all the threatening symptoms of a Consumption, such as cough, pain in the side, &c., together with general debility, but has had her health restored by Lorraine's Pills.

Rev. J. KNIGHT.

New York City, Nov. 1, 1841.

Family Medicine.

SIR—I have used Lorraine's Pills in my family as family medicine, and I would most earnestly recommend them to all persons, as the best medicine that can be procured. I would not be without them—they operate mildly, and never fail to give immediate relief. Until I used these Pills I was obliged to pay from 2rom 25 to $100 per year for medicines and physicians, since then I have had no other doctor than Dr. Lorraine's Pills. JAMES NEAL.

Hartford, Conn. July 8.

Lame Back.

Sarah Snow was cured of a lame back in one day, when she had been unable to dress herself alone for two weeks.

Susan Jones of Boston, cured in 36 hours of lame back and side of three weeks standing.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. Bird of Providence says, that 'Lorraine's Pills have proved a real blessing to her. It has surpassed any thing that has been brought to the public notice. I have been cured of a sick headache that had afflicted me for years, by the use of Lorraine's Pills.

THE CONDITION.

The condition upon which nature gives health to man, is a watchful care to keep his stomach and bowels free from morbid and unhealthy accumulations. Lorraine's Pills admirably effect this, because they cleanse the bowels and purify the blood.

The human body is always healthy when the bowels are regular, the blood circulates freely, and disease invariably commences when obstructions take place in the bowels.

The extraordinary virtues of Lorraine's Pills depends upon extracts of over 50 different vegetables, all so admirably combined as to purify, nourish and invigorate the human system.

THE PILES AND ALL SORES.

HAY'S LINIMENT is known now to thousands, as a most extraordinary remedy for these afflictions. It is impossible to tell in a newspaper, in such a manner, as to obtain full credence, the effects and benefits of this article, so general is the practice of advertisers of extolling articles of no merit. Such personal reference will be given, as to bring conviction to the minds of the most unbeliefing. Will sufferers only ask among their friends, if they have not heard or known its effects; and if they do not hear it more warmly praised than any other salve, let them not get it.—All fancy or exageration is positively excluded from the statements, and it is determined to say nothing of its merits, but what could be fully proved by a host of witnesses, in any court of justice. Will you look at the thing and the proofs where it may be had? at G. W. LADD'S, A. P. GUILD'S, and A. YOUNG, JR. & CO., formerly Holden's. 3twd and w6m nov 9t

CHINA ACADEMY.

THE Spring Term will commence the first MONDAY in March.

The Trustees of this institution would announce to the public that they have recently taken measures to add much to the advantages it has hitherto possessed. The buildings are undergoing thorough repairs, and will be rendered much more pleasant and convenient than heretofore.

Arrangements have also been made to divide the instruction given, between two competent and experienced teachers. They are convinced that in the multiplicity of branches usually taught in Academies, it is impossible for any one instructor to do justice to all of them. That every pupil should receive a proper amount of attention, there should be a division of labor.

—Mr. PAINE, therefore, the present Preceptor, whose success in the business of teaching for many years, is well known, will continue to devote the whole of his time to the interests of the school; and Mr. JAMES HANSON, A. B., will be associated with him. Mr. H. took a highly honorable rank in college, is well versed in the Ancient and Modern Languages; and possesses that love for teaching, and that peculiar tack for conveying knowledge, without which the most learned instructor may labor in vain.

No pains will be spared on the part of the teachers to give entire satisfaction to every student.—Special effort will be made to render the instruction systematic and thorough.

Young men, intending to enter college, or prepare for teaching, will have particular attention bestowed upon them.

Familiar lectures will be given to illustrate the more important and difficult branches of study; and to exhibit and enforce the principles of morality.

Board may be obtained in good families from $1,25 to $1,50 per week.

DEAFNESS.

DR. McNAIR'S ACOUSTIC OIL.

THOSE DEAF FROM INFANCY often receive in a most miraculous manner their hearing when they least expect it by some trifling accident or event, which shows them how easily they might have much sooner had their hearing, and saved themselves and their friends the pain of conversing in a loud tone, without pleasure, or of being neglected and shunned to avoid that distress which is felt mutually by the deaf person and his hearers. How sacred a duty, therefore, it is that we use all necessary means to remove such an affliction, and enjoy the social qualities implanted in our nature? This EAR OIL has the effect so to relieve the tension, and bring into use the natural action of the parts, as to restore the hearing when lost or impaired For sale by G. W. LADD.

DR. TAYLOR'S BALSAM OF LIVERWORT.

PRICE REDUCED.

DR. TAYLOR'S Balsam of Liverwort, from 375 Bowery, New York—for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Asthma, Soreness of the Chest, Pain in the side and Breast, raising of Blood, Liver complaint, Bronchitis, and all those affections of Throat and Lungs which are a source of so much suffering and unarrested, so often terminate in Consumption—this remedy is highly and justly distinguished. It is purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its effects upon the system, and can be taken in the most delicate cases, with safety as well as utility. Physicians, aware of its medicinal properties, and witnessing its effects even in extreme and in some instances apparently almost hopeless cases, often prescribe it in their practice, both as a palliative and a remedy, and with the Medical Faculty generally it has met with great approbation.

CONSUMPTION.—The following remarks were taken from the last number of the Medical Magazine:

"The surprising effect produced by the genuine Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, made at 375 Bowery, in consumptive cases, cannot fail exciting a deep and thrilling interest throughout the world. We have so long considered this disease (consumption) incurable, that it is difficult to credit our senses when we see persons, evidently consumptive, restored to health. Yet it is a fact of daily occurrence."

Certificates from the highest and most respectable sources, or persons who have been either greatly relieved by it, or entirely recovered from affections of the Lungs and Liver, could be furnished in abundance, but we insert only the following

CERTIFICATE.

Liver Complaint and General Debility. I was given up by two physicians, and told to prepare for death. I was so weak I could not raise my hand to my head. I was in this low state, when a friend sent me a bottle of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, from 375 Bowery, and before I had used up the bottle, I was able to sit up in bed. By the further use I have completely regained my health.

GEO. WELLS, 23 John-st.

For a common cold and cough, this is one of the very best remedies ever discovered.

REDUCTION FOURFOLD IN PRICES—OR NOTHING.

AN article that every family must consider indispensable, when they know its power and value and which has heretofore been sold too high to bring it to all classes, has now been reduced fourfold in price, with a view that rich and poor, high and low, and in fact every human being may enjoy its comforts; and all who get it shall have the price returned to them if they are not delighted with its use. We assert, without the possibility of contradiction, that all burns and scalds, every external sore, old or fresh, and all external pains and aches, no matter where, shall be reduced to comfort by it in five minutes—saving life, limb or scar. No burn can be fatal if this is applied, unless the vitals are destroyed by the accident. It is truly magical, to appearance, in its effects. Enquire for "Connel's Magical Pain Extractor," at Comstock & Co's., 21 Cortland street. Price 25 cents, or four times as much for 50 cents, and ten times as much for $1.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF PURGATION

CORNARO'S

Purifying and Preserving PILLS.

THE American public has for a long time been the victim of a false and dangerous system of medicine founded on the practice of LONG CONTINUED AND UNRELIEVED PURGATION. The evils of this old system are of the most widespread and alarming character. They have reached through every vein and artery of our nation.—In every city, and village, and hamlet—in every State and Territory of our vast Republic, will be found those who have suffered, or who are still suffering from the injurious effects of this old system, of whose practical utility the disease, decay, and utter prostration of those who test it furnish the most condemning proofs!

COMMON DRASTIC PURGATION

Scours out the system by the most improper and violent means, and then leave it, weak, low, feeble debilitated, to regain its strength as best it may.—Sometimes the consequences of this old Purgative practice are worse than mere Debility. Inflammation of the Bowels, Slow Fever, Bloody Piles, and other horrible disorders are produced, simply from the want of some enlivening and preserving power in the medicine employed. Sometimes the digestive organs are deeply and permanently injured by this coarse and unphilosophical practice, leaving the patient AN INVALID FOR LIFE.

The alarming evils and absurdities of the old system of Purgation, have led to the introduction of a new Life-giving Medicine, called CORNARO'S PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, which are established on this new and only true principle of Purgation, viz:

NO PURGATION WITHOUT IMMEDIATE RESTORATION.

The use of this admirable Purgative remedy strikes a death blow to that abominable system, which by continually evacuating the bowels without any conservative or saving power, so dreadfully and fearfully prostrates and injures the unhappy patient. These Purifying and Preserving Pills are believed to constitute the perfection of medicine, being a UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE PURGATIVE, containing two great remedies combined, viz: One remedy to PURIFY FROM CORRUPTION, and another to PRESERVE FROM INJURY AND DECAY.

And for the purpose of attaining the highest degree of purity in the preparation of these Pills, Dr Bradlee has, at a vast expenditure of time and money, invented and patented at Washington, a chemical and philosophical apparatus for distilling and refining vegetable extracts, called

THE SEVEN-FOLD FURNACE,

A powerful and novel machine—having Seven Fires and Seven Alembics, with distilling, condensing, and evaporating fixtures of a new and ingenious contrivance, capable of obtaining more than seven times the ordinary purity of any vegetable extract heretofore used in compounding medicine. The Baliamic and Preserving power of these Pills is also, by this invention, highly purified and refined, and so mingled with the operative medicine, that it repairs all the injuries created by Purgation as soon as they are caused, and strongly fortifies the system against future corruption and decay.

Let the public be no longer deceived by the advertisements of the "one remedy" doctors, who show their entire ignorance of the organic laws of the human system by supposing that a medicine which purges merely, without renovating or preserving, can be a perfect remedy. For it is a fixed and immutable law of our being that there should be, in no case, Purgation without immediate Restoration; and hence it follows, and is proved to demonstration, that all Purgatives which DO NOT possess a saving and preserving power, are injurious, and injurious only—and possess NOT ONE REDEEMING QUALITY.

The whole theory of common drastic Purgation is based upon unnatural and absurd laws, and they who follow it fall victims to their own folly, and too late repent their temerity.

☞ BEWARE OF UNRELIEVED PURGATION! Purge and Preserve, or do not attempt to Purge at all.

☞ The celebrated PURIFYING AND PRESERVING PILLS, purify the body from corruption and preserve it from injury and decay by a single operation. They are a Universal Vegetable Purgative, of sovereign use in all diseases of the human system in which purgation is required, particularly in Jaundice Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofula, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Disorders, Liver Complaint, Fevers, Nervous Disorders, Inward Weakness, Cholic, Dysentary, Worms, Gout, Rheumatism, Female Complaints, Depression of Spirits, Debility of System, Fits, &c., &c.

☞ Price 25 cents per Box, with full directions, Essay on Health and Long Life, &c.

TO THE OLD AND YOUNG.

HO! YE RED HEADS AND GREY!

PHENOMENON IN CHEMISTRY.

EAST INDIA HAIR DYE.

Colors the Hair, and will not the Skin

THIS Dye is in form of a powder, which in plain matter of fact may be applied to the hair over night, the first night turning the lightest RED or GREY HAIR to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, keep his hair any dark shade or perfect black; with a positive assurance that the powder, if applied to the skin, will not color it. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair. Directions complete with the article. There is no coloring in this statement, as one can easily test.

These facts are warranted by the gentleman who manufactures it, who is the celebrated Chemist, DR. COMSTOCK, author of Comstock's Chemistry, Philosophy, and other works, and School Books, well known and widely celebrated by the public.

COUGHS, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Asthma, and all complaints of the chest, lungs and liver, will be cured by the Extract of Lungwort, when all else fails. This we assert without fear of the least contradiction. Besides, it does not require the false certificate of the panaceas, balsams and candies, to induce invalids to use this great lung restorative. One trial will convince the sceptical, that its virtues are far above price. To be found only, at G. W. LADD'S, corner of Smith's Block, West Market Place.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM, NAMELY:

Scrofula, or King's Evil, rheumatism, obstinate cutaneous eruptions, pimples, or pustules on the face, blotches, biles, chronic sore eyes, ring worm or tetter, scald head, enlargement and pain of the bones and joints, stubborn ulcers, syphilitic symptoms, sciatica, or lumbago, and diseases arising from an injudicious use of the mercury, ascites, or dropsy, exposure or imprudence in life. Also, chronic constitutional disorders will be removed by this preparation.

The proprietors submit to the public the following certificate, from a highly respectable source, of a cure made by using their preparation of Sarsaparilla, which cannot but have the effect of placing beyond all doubt the curative powers of the medicine:

NEW YORK, August 3, 1843.

"Messrs. Sands—Gentlemen: Under a feeling sense of gratitude inherent to us all when suddenly relieved from suffering and disease, I now, as an act of justice due to you, and with a view of relieving the afflicted, make known to the world the inestimable benefit I have received from the use of your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from England in a vessel bound for Quebec, and while on the passage first discovered the disease which after proved to be a sore affliction; and truly I can say, 'from the crown of my head to the sole of my foot there was no soundness in me.' From the time first mentioned down until the present, a period of more than ten years, I have suffered all that human nature was capable of bearing. I have been under the care of the most distinguished physicians both in this country and in England, visited Bath, Cheltenham, Bristol and Gloucester, tried various specifics, among others a large quantity of Swaim's Panacea, used sulphur baths, &c. As a last resort I was induced to wrap myself in a tar ointment, keep myself secluded, shunned by all, myself also shunning. I was induced to believe my case a hopeless one.

In August last, by the advice of friends, I went to the New York City Hospital, but was there told that my case was incurable. The disease now enveloped my whole body, rendering me almost helpless; the skin thickened and cracked, and blood and matter ran, and life itself became almost a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use your Sarsaparilla by hearing it so highly recommended, having spent nearly $3,000 without obtaining but little relief. After using it a short time, I found myself better, and now, by using six or eight bottles, costing me less than ten dollars, I am well. Yes, I certify and declare to the world, that after spending near $3,000 in traveling and doctoring, and suffering more than can be told, I was perfectly cured by using your invaluable preparation of Sarsaparilla; and I now recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Those wishing to know further particulars will find me at my residence, No. 27 Warren street, New York, where I shall be happy to communicate anything in relation to the above cure.

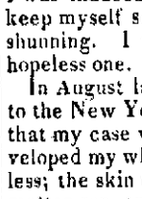

PAUL BURDOCK."

Prepared and sold by A. B. SANDS & Co. Druggists and Chemists, Granite Buildings, 273 Broadway, corner of Chambers street, New York. And for sale by Druggists throughout the United States. Price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5.

The public are respectfully requested to remember that it is Sands's Sarsaparilla that has and is constantly achieving such remarkable cures of the most difficult class of diseases to which the human frame is subject, and ask for Sands's Sarsaparilla, and take no other.
